

The American Floorcovering Alliance will host a group pavilion for AFA members & non-members at Domotex 2009, which takes place January 17-20, 2009 in Hannover, Germany.

The AFA Pavilion will be located in Hall 5, with approx. 256 sqm. of space, providing conference room(s) and often a Georgia co-sponsored lounge as well as exhibition space for companies wishing to exhibit.

This turnkey package enables companies to have their own exhibit space while sharing the cost for the extra private conference room, a community lounge with refreshments, storage, plus assistance with potential customers.

About the AFA

The AFA, located in Dalton, Georgia “The Carpet Capital of the World” was formed in 1979 to promote the floor covering industry. AFA, a not for profit association, promotes the Industries products and services to the world and educates the members and others through seminars, press releases, and trade shows. Any company may become a member in the association if they are in the floor covering industry or a floor covering related industry. A wide variety of services and benefits are offered to assist the membership in promoting their business and growing the entire industry. Since 1979, our members have found the AFA to be an essential resource for their continued growth.
